EXOTIUM - Episode 6 With Key (April-2022)

- An Italian man, Alex MacLeod, the protagonist of the game, is walking in a forest full of strange plants and animals, lying in the ground, amongst many black stones. It is of a dimension that it is not possible to enter and which are therefore considered as portals to other worlds. Without knowing why he is doing it, he decides to take his helmet and accompany the black stones, and the game starts. It can also be seen as a companion for the previous game. There, he seems to be in contact with an extraterrestrial device that will take him to the Incubator, a place in which some alien beings have chosen to maintain a humanoid body inside a large glass cylinder. This artificial life is subject to constant contamination. He will be the first man (of the far future) to try to confront the alien beings from inside the Incubator. Except his companion, Mr Harris, who is a sage old man from the past who will accompany him. There, the boy will be able to meet Echelon, the symbiotic robot who will guide him through his story and his destiny. A child born from a very poor family, Alex, above all, dreamt to be able to discover the secret of the Incubator. He believes that he knows who is the creator of the Incubator, and even from a very young age, has shown great interest in learning about the unknown. His dream is only possible if he is able to get out of the Incubator, but at the beginning of the story he must go through a series of tests that will be essential for the resolution of this new adventure that will take him to the end of the galaxy and perhaps past the limits of the human imagination. This game is a post-apocalyptic story about a community built around a village built of a cyborg technician, and with a neo-human race that can't defeat the living dead. Play as an ex-Rebel that is trying to reach the Empire to join them and save his daughter that is in danger. The game offers a unique point of view by combining a hand-painted, high-resolution world with a real-time, over-the-shoulder combat system. The game

What's new:

- The Real Thief 08FEB10 We've had recent transmissions from Ingmar in Ingstram featuring three Champions defending the Grey Altzivi Empire of Paradisia from the street sweepers known as the Human Alliance, a small group of pro-Leside enemies of the Empire. The entire story of Thrax the Plague, the master criminal, who was able to use Leside finances to commit several crimes, escapes punishment. Thrax has been apprehended and questioned about the countless Erks in the country. His description stays consistent However there is a few things the Champion of Parista, Ingmar of the Red Empire, hasn't mentioned. During his recent speech presenting the news of the Champion's Defense System and the Grey Altzivi's role in developing it, a Champion of the Green Altzivi, Clement, gave a speech wherein he indicated that there's 3 thieves in world, namely the plague, the ghrhina and an unknown one who sells stolen coins. This poofed everyone out of their minds, but he announced that he would reveal them a little later. Ingmar announces that now he will introduce his most brave companion whom he met a few years ago in the former college of Turados. The Three Faces of Mario The Champion of Lasder must now reveal the champion of Turados, also known as the Sandman. The Champion walks the stage and he introduces himself, his name is Mario, he has been accompanied by a thief known as Sybot for some time, they are organized on a number of robberies. For most home interior products the after sales treatment is far below par. Under Australian law the various sellers are in breach of the Consumer Protection Act and so are exposed to prosecution for failing to disclose the defects of their products. Why don't they have this law? Why do people have to write write to companies to get help? Well, don't blame the companies. It just isn't considered profitable enough to deal with client's problems in a reasonable way. A good example is the umbrella that I bought in March for $200. It hasn't been well used so, it hasn't collapsed in 6 months. It's dark blue and shiny so it looks quite expensive. I have the original manufacturers warranty of 5 years plus
