(Clouds And Icebergs) | PLAYNOW Online Game November 28, 2017, 03:56:00 PM Great Gills, once again doing the things I enjoy! Thanks You need to input the Volume Level here - mine is wayyyy too loud : love it! Do you like 'em loud? At least Google +, Facebook & Twitter follow me, so if you have time to encourage me or I notice you I will give you a shout out. There are a few options here. The first one is for your character. You could set the character to no transmit? Use the PUSH function to choose between characters? The second will be your audience. You can go to the Settings page and change it to a mask room or mute conversation. And you can buy other options such as mute video recording. There are plenty of people out there willing to pay for that alone... If you want a more full-bodied interaction setting try moving some of the buttons around. This is where the BF likes to pound on people. ;) Great point - especially in the comments section in the ToD view. I guess, considering that players who talk about the table book are the same ones who don't like the table book, there's not much point mentioning it for MUSH'ers. I guess, considering that players who talk about the table book are the same ones who don't like the table book, there's not much point mentioning it for MUSH'ers. Speaking of the table book I have to admit, it's time to turn in the current entry as we have a new version out. For sure we are going to have a look at it in the next D1 session now.
