COMPAREB.C.'s leaders have been advised that the province's coastline is ill-equipped to deal with climate change at a time when B.C.'s population, and the millions of people who visit it each year, are expected to exceed the capacity of natural infrastructure. In a notice of intent, provincial government documents say that Canada's Climate Change Action Plan has made clear that "Victoria and Vancouver will see exponential growth in numbers of international tourists in the next few decades" and that "severe heat waves are a real possibility in Vancouver." It's recommended that the province develop a Climate Change and Coastal Response Plan for Victoria and Vancouver that considers "significant coastline losses in the next 30 years," and measures for adapting infrastructure as sea levels rise. The document, which was written for the Province of B.C., was made available to The Province and accessed through freedom of information laws. It recommends actions that will be taken within the next five years, but it includes no cost estimates. The Government of B.C. said the work will be done as part of a $100 million Climate Change Adaptation Fund. The province says it's too soon to estimate how much the province will spend. The document, which was written for the Province of B.C., recommends that the province build a network of best management practices for sea level rise that includes higher, stronger and higher capacity dikes. The document says that because of expected sea level rise, the province needs to evaluate protection of its coastal infrastructure, and it will consider "coastal flooding impacts on coastal and intertidal amenities." The province is also expected to consider protection of "important or hard to protect infrastructure" and

System Requirements For EMCO MoveOnBoot:

The TNG version is optimized for the Nintendo Switch. If you experience some FPS drops, there's two reasons: 1. Either your FPS is set to "Too Low" in the options menu, and if so, you're in luck: • Changing the settings from "Too Low" to "Custom" will have the game automatically recalibrate the FPS • Changing the FPS from "Custom" to "Anywhere in the middle" will take you to the second reason: • Game runs at 30 FPS instead of 60, which it can
